PRASHANT SHAH

CHAIRMAN

Namaste!

We are living in a time where unpredictable is the new norm. Offices and workspaces are closed. Working from homes is a thing and schooling is online.

Welcome to an ever changing world.

And we can survive and come out strong only if we choose one path. And that is the path of practicality.

I welcome you to our new monthly, "The Practical". Kaps3 is a people's company. Our motto is "From the People, For The People". And a people's company can progress only when the people progress!

We want to lead the way and work towards a better future for all of us!

With "The Practical", we plan to bring everything together in one place. A place for ideas, events, updates and recognition. A place to showcase talent and research. A place where we show trust and accountability to our people and clients.

It's our Vision put in to Practice.

I sincerely hope that you all will have inputs for this practical. Help us make it into something that you look forward to reading every month!

Let's head in to the future with eyes wide open and brains wide awake. Opportunities will present, we have to persevere.

HARSHIT PRASHANT SHAH

MANAGING DIRECTOR

Hello World!

Welcome to "The Practical"

It seems like I am back to my college days where I used to have fun at my biology practical's!

And trust me, I think we are going to do just that here!

Live practically and share some interesting thoughts and have some light moments.

As Mr Prashant Shah has already shared, it's his vision which we are bringing to fruition.

His vision is to be transparent with our working and at the same time, be open to ideas and creative thinking.

We just had an amazing team outing at Rajasthan last month to honour the deserving and update and equip ourselves with better marketing skills. We will be sharing glimpses of that trip which was a resounding success in this month's Practical.

Also coming up inside, are some valuable articles by renowned doctors who share their insights.

All in all, I think this is going to be an interesting read.

Keep it up and share your thoughts with us!

Thank you.

FIELD EXECUTIVE

It indeed a nice experience to work with Kaps3 Life Sciences Pvt. Ltd., Since beginning I'm with this organization, Previously Kaps3 has started with few products, as time went on new unique molecules kept coming with newer attractive packing like MNC's, Many of our Products are manufactured by same manufacturing unit where multinational company's make their products,

Few years back we have started our own Gujarat's largest Nutraceuticals plant at Surendranagar i.e KAPS3 NUTRA

Now a days we have total five divisions..

- 1) Kaps3 Life Sciences Pvt. Ltd.
- 2) Kaps3 Nutra Pvt. Ltd.
- 3) Vivaan Skin Care
- 4) Rysa Herbal Care
- 5) Ophthalmics Kaps3 Division

We are doing academic work also, so far we have contributed many state levels and national levels medical conference's as principal sponsors.

I learned and still learning lots of things from this organization and also from Chairman Mr Prashant Shah Sir, he is very caring person like father, motivating us like mentor, similarly MD Mr Harshit Shah, he is very loving and charming person , always ready for teaching us newer things , always supportive like brother..

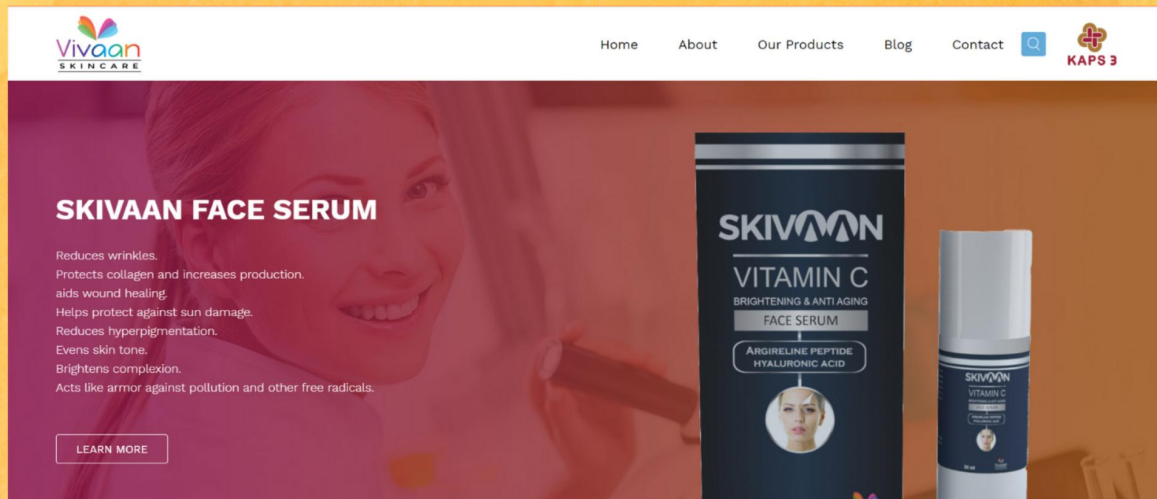

Thank u for everything Prashant Sir & Family..

If I had to describe my company in one line ,I can say with certainty that just as the nearest planet to earth is mercury, similarly Doctor's have close to Kaps3 Life Sciences Pvt. Ltd.

Thank u.

CULTURE & CELEBRATIONS

Welcoming a guest is no less than an event.

The guest is given a very warm traditional welcome in which he/she is garlanded and given a welcome drink.

Then a "tikka" (vermillion) is applied on the forehead.

Myths about home remedies for children

Superstitions and Misconceptions about a Child's Upbringing and their Solutions India is a country with so many rich and varied cultures, and in that variation, there's a rich heritage. Across cities and villages, there's a way of upbringing our children. In joint families, the children mostly grow up under their grandparents guidance and care.

Grandparents not only bring their experience and stories to the childhood, but they also instill emotions and values in the children. There are always pros and cons to this way of upbringing. But there are certain times when children become susceptible to some form of permanent defects due to household remedies used by elders who are affected by illiteracy and their old ways and myths.

We need to make sure that we Stay away from these Myths and Superstitions that sometimes take lives of our beloved children.

Let's see some of the Myths and how to avoid them:

1) Is it true that babies get loose motions when they are about to get teeth ?

» There's no connection between the two, and we need to treat the loose motions on time and not relate it to teething issues.

2) Is it true that Jaundice can be cured by wearing some random malas (chains) ?

» It's a myth. Jaundice needs to be treated medically. Chana (chickpeas) help when consumed during jaundice but there's science behind it.

3) Is it true that babies get worms by eating sweet foods ?

» Fruits are naturally sweet and they don't lead to worms. But the extra sugar from processed foods like chocolates and biscuits can lead to worms and hurt their systems.

4) Is it true that babies shouldn't be given grains and foods until they start walking ?

» Babies can be given grains and foods and it's perfectly fine even before they start walking

5) Is it true that newborns shouldn't feed on the mother's first yellow milk after delivery ?

» Colostrum is 'liquid gold' filled with nutrients and antibodies to protect the baby from infections. Newborns should be given the first milk post-delivery as it's an immune booster.

6) Is it true that Aanjan (collyrium) is good for the eyes ?

» It's bad and it hurts their eyes.

7) Is it true that tying a shell (kodi) around the neck drives away diseases ?

» It's a myth. It ends up poking and hurting the babies.

8) Is it true that Ghee or Oil causes cough and also that Curd, Buttermilk and Bananas cause babies to get common cold ?

» No, it's not true. These foods do not cause a cold.

9) Is it true that giving a hot burn shock (dam) can cure diseases ?

» No, it's a myth. It only causes burns and hurts more.

10) Is it true that covering up babies with blanket makes the fever go away ?

» No, it's a myth. Babies having fever need proper treatment.

11) Is it true that a convulsion (fit) can be treated by making the baby smell a pair of shoes or onions ?

» No, it's a myth. Fits need to be treated with proper medical care.

These and many such myths and superstitions have plagued our society. No diseases or ailments can be cured by keeping fasts or tying dhagas (threads).

Ram had asked for medicine (jadibuti) when Laxman was injured!

Even Gods seek Medicines.

Let's be practical and thoughtful and make sure our children are raised properly.

Let's leave these myths behind and follow science and lead a healthy life.

Gods give us the medicines. Doctors show us the right way of treatments to a better life.
